Students Mentoring and Counselling:

Counselling of students was conducted by the Head of the respective department, class teacher and Dean of Student Advancement. Relevant data regarding students having less attendance and poor performers were collated by the class teacher in the given format and the students were counselled. Students were advised to attend classes regularly. Students having genuine concerns regarding health and family commitments were counselled to attend classes regularly for the remaining part of the semester. The attendance and performance of the students are being continuously monitored at the department level and necessary interventions are taken from time to time.
